

Lofty Questions 2026 Simplified

Shared by Vishen Lakhiani

This version is organized as a practical workbook. The first pages show exactly what to do each day. The category pages are kept later so you can find the day you need without getting lost.

Simple meaning: A Lofty Question assumes the good outcome is already becoming true. Instead of asking, “How do I get there?” you ask, “Why is this already true for me?” Then your mind begins looking for evidence, ideas, and aligned actions.

Start Here: Today’s Simple Routine

Use this page first. You do not need to read the whole workbook every day. Choose today’s category, answer the morning questions, watch for evidence during the day, then answer the same six nighttime questions before bed.

When	What You Do	Where To Look In This Workbook
Morning	Choose today’s category and answer the Power Questions first. If you have more time, answer the Core and Supporting Questions too.	Use the weekly rotation below, then go to that category page.
During the day	Watch for proof that the question may already be becoming true.	Use the evidence prompt on that category page.
Evening	Write what showed up from the category. Keep it simple.	Use the daily worksheet page.
Before sleep	Answer the six nighttime questions . These never change.	Use the Bedtime Ritual section.

If you only have a few minutes, answer the two Power Questions for the day and then answer the six nighttime questions before bed. That is enough to keep the practice moving.

Your Weekly Rotation

The original guide gives eight categories. Healing is the foundation category and can be used anytime. The other seven categories create a simple Monday-through-Sunday rhythm.

Day	Category	Main Focus
Monday	Money & Abundance	Wealth, income, and aligned abundance.
Tuesday	Health & Vitality	Energy, strength, sleep, and physical vitality.
Wednesday	Lifestyle & Freedom	Time, freedom, adventure, and boundaries.
Thursday	Connections & Relationships	Intimacy, friendship, influence, and trust.
Friday	Career & Impact	Purpose, leadership, work, and legacy.
Saturday	Consciousness & Exponential	AI, consciousness, wisdom, and positive change.
Sunday	Family & Presence	Presence, parenting, partnership, and family bonds.
Anytime Reset	Healing	Wholeness, release, and emotional grounding.

For the easiest use, follow the weekday rotation. If you feel emotionally heavy, unclear, or overwhelmed, use Healing instead of the scheduled category for that day.

Your One-Page Daily Practice

This is the main daily page. You can print it, copy it into a notebook, or simply use it as a checklist. The morning section changes based on the category. The nighttime section stays the same every night.

Part of Day	Prompt	Your Notes
Date	What is today’ s date?
Today’ s Category	Which category am I using today?

Morning Power Question 1	What answer comes up if I let this be true?
Morning Power Question 2	What answer comes up if I let this be true?
Daytime Evidence	What proof, idea, opportunity, feeling, or synchronicity did I notice?
Evening Reflection	What changed, opened, softened, or became clearer today?
Aligned Action	What is one small action I can take from this identity?

Bedtime Ritual: The Six Nighttime Questions

These six questions are the fixed nighttime practice from the original guide. They are asked every night, with no rotation and no substitution.

How to use this at night: Write one honest sentence for each question. If you are tired, short answers are fine. The goal is to close the day with gratitude, pride, commitment, insight, and a clear direction for tomorrow.

Number	Nighttime Question	What It Helps You Notice	Your Answer
1	What am I grateful for?	Notice what supported you today.
2	What am I proud of?	Give yourself credit for effort, courage, or progress.
3	What am I committed to?	Reconnect with what matters most.
4	How did I show up as my best self today?	Notice where your higher self was already present.

5	What insights or synchronicities appeared today?	Capture ideas, signs, timing, patterns, and lessons.
6	What will I focus on becoming tomorrow?	Give your mind a clear direction before sleep.

A simple nighttime flow is to first write one sentence about what appeared from today's category, then answer these six questions, then sleep. You do not need to solve anything before bed; just place the questions in your mind and let them keep working.
